Question 1: Do you agree with the CP1454 proposed solution?

Summary

Yes	No	Neutral/No Comment	Other
5	0	0	0

Responses

Respondent	Response	Rationale
TMA Data Management Ltd	Yes	The estimation of materiality must be as accurate as possible, using data from the site itself rather than the COP information will be more reflective of the actual impact on Settlement and the Industry.
Western Power Distribution	Yes	-
ScottishPower	Yes	-
SSE Energy Supply Limited	Yes	This is an efficient and pragmatic solution to support more accurately reflecting the settlement impact of these non-compliances.
British Gas	Yes	-

Question 2: Do you agree that the draft redlining delivers the CP1454 proposed solution?

Summary

Yes	No	Neutral/No Comment	Other
2	3	0	0

Responses

A summary of the specific responses on the draft redlining can be found at the end of this document.

Respondent	Response	Rationale
TMA Data Management Ltd	No	The red lined draft clearly moves the responsibility from the TAA to ELEXON but does not elaborate on the estimation method. We would like to see a more descriptive wording to cover the method by which ELEXON shall calculate the volumes affecting the Industry.
Western Power Distribution	No	To aid visibility of the process it would be beneficial if BSCP MAP 27 clearly stated ELEXON will be responsible for calculating the materiality of a Category 1 non-compliance, and ELEXON will raise a Trading Dispute for each Category 1 Non-Compliance and calculate the materiality as part of the Trading Dispute investigation. The method of calculating the materiality of a Category 1 non-compliance should be re-instated in BSCP27 to reflect the new method of calculation.
ScottishPower	Yes	-
SSE Energy Supply Limited	No	The solution changes the party who will complete the calculation as well as the method of calculation. The 'who' has been reflected in the redlining, but the 'what' has not. We would suggest there is benefit in the calculation either being added, or referenced in some way. This would support transparency of arrangements and ensure that if the calculation is amended in future it is subject to BSC CP governance procedures.
British Gas	Yes	-

Respondent	Location	Comment
Western Power Distribution	4.1.8	ELEXON will raise a Trading Dispute for each Category 1 Non-Compliance as Business as usual (BAU) and calculate the materiality as part of the Trading Dispute investigation.
Western Power Distribution	4.1.9	Calculation method: The following steps to be taken by ELEXON <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. Obtain HH data for the site which the category 1 non-compliance has been raised against.</li> <li>ii. Engage with the Registrant of the site or BSC Agent to ascertain a date of when the error came into effect.</li> <li>iii. Calculate the percentage error.</li> <li>iv. Using the percentage error, calculate what would have been in Settlement if the error had not occurred.</li> <li>v. Calculate the difference between what should have been in Settlement and what is actually in Settlement to provide a materiality in MWh.</li> </ol>
